

S.A.M.R.

iPads

Substitution

Technology can act as a direct tool substitution, with no functional change.

Note-taking, data collection and brainstorming

eBooks

Storage/display of work

Biography Title	Lucy Goosey
Character's name	Lucy Goosey
Beginning:	Lucy Goosey was born in 2007 and she lives in a pond she lives with a beautiful family
• Who is the character?
• When and where was the character born?
• Where is the story set?
Middle:
Retell one event

Augmentation

Technology acts as a direct tool substitution, with functional improvement.

Internet research

Using video/animations to complement learning activity

I can see a rocket in space.
In the sky there are bright stars.
The moon is super big!

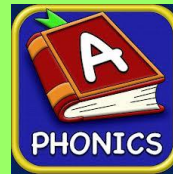

eBook apps with internet searching, dictionaries or note taking features

Feedback and reflection (i.e. recording voice when reading)

Extension/consolidation of Maths and English through concept specific apps

Modification & Redefinition

Technology allows for significant task redesign.

Collaborative brainstorming

Video analysis of various subjects

Multimodal tasks

Technology allows for creation of new tasks, previously inconceivable.

